CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DCLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any tral Railroad, for Richmond, Charlottesville, Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in each, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospoets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: James T. Close.

Read the following from the Evening Star of December 3, 1859: "A REMARKABLY FINE ALE .- Mr. Davison's in the Washington Brewery, corner K and 27th streets, Mr. Colineau, is now manufacturing XX ale and porter and brown stout, all of which reflect infinite credit on his establishment. His ale compares favorably, indeed, with the best Philadelphia and Albany ales, being, according to our taste, much more like the best English and Scotch ales than those imported from either of those cities. If he continues to produce so superior an article, he will shortly make a reputation

Having an experience of over 20 years in the business, and possessing extensive manufacturing facilities, he flatters himself that his ALES will compare favorably with any manufactured, either in or out of the State of Virginia.

If necessary, he could fill columns with the many flattering testimonials he has received with regard to the superiority of his ALES, from the press and the public; but he prefers that his ALE hall speak for itself. By a strict personal attention to business, and determination to manufacture nothing but a superior quality of PURE ALE, he hopes to merit a share of public patronage.

ORIGIN OF CONSUMPTION.-The American

The nature of consumption is stated to consist in a deprivation of the fluids which are propelled through these tiny ARRIVALS .- On Saturday last twenty ves- | lympathic conduits. Two theories are prosels, exclusive of those loaded with wood, oys- posed to account for the presence of the pernicious elements which here taint and poison the springs of life at their source. One party affirms that the process of nutrition is at fault, and that part of the food eaten is lazily and imperfectly assimilated, offering itself in a crude, half prepared state, to the action of vessels not adapted to deal with Book, very handsomely illustrated and filled such material, but only with that which has been submitted to a completer preliminary elaboration. Hence cellular development, the first step in organization, is impossible. The fluid cannot be taken up. It never becomes vitalized or forms a union with any living tissue. On the contrary, it is a burden, and soon causes mischief. Another party thinks that the material thus existing in the far-reaching network of lympathic vessels is due to decay, and contains the pro-

Both opinions are well supported, and perhaps both may prove to be true. That some noxious materials, whether the debris refusing to become new tissues, are thrown copiously near the lympathics, is agreed; and also that the quantity of such products is so great that this active sewerage-apparatus cannot carry it away. It accumulates and hardens into tuberoles. The cause of this dreadful malady as stated by our author to be Ter Admission 25 cents; Children 15 cents. primarily the want of oxygen, whose presence in sufficient quantity would either prevent the formation of the tuberculous material, or would give power to cast it out as soon as formed. A cure in the early stages of the disease is said to have sometimes been secured by the use of chlorate of potash, and other remedies which supply oxygen to the blood. Prevention, however, here as every where, is easier than cure, and is seldom impossible, iquors, put up under their own supervision, for whatever be the hereditary tendency to the malady. SAVE THE LEAVES .- If Brother Jonathan were assaving of manures as John Bull is, he would be a better farmer. No one knows until he has seen it how careful English and European farmers and gardeners are of every thing which can be converted into manure : and this is one ground of their superiority in agriculture. Now let us repeat what we valuable for fertilizing purposes than decayed leaves. They are hardly inferior to barnyard manure. Gather them up now, this very month of November, before they are covered by the snow. They are abundant every where, lying in heads and windrows in the forest and by the roadside and by the fences in every yard. The wood-lot should not be stripped clean of them; but doubtless every farmer's land contains more of them here and there than he can find time to cart home.
